Dear Nancy Loud School Families,

It is with great pride that I share some exciting news with everyone.

The Nancy Loud School has been selected by the State of New Hampshire Department of Education for NATIONAL RECOGNITION as a Title I Distinguished School!!!!

What does this mean, you may ask? Each state in the country chooses two schools for this award. This means only 100 schools in the country are recognized for this award every year. The Nancy Loud School is honored to be one of these schools recognized this coming February at the National Title I Conference in Philadelphia!

According to the National Title I Association,

“...schools are selected by their State Education Agency and must qualify under one of the following categories:

Category 1: Exceptional student performance for two or more consecutive years,

Category 2: Closing the achievement gap between student groups,

Category 3: Excellence in serving special populations of students (e.g. homeless, migrant, English learners, etc.)”

For this award, NLS is receiving recognition for the first category, “exceptional student performance for two or more consecutive years.”

I have attached the press release from the National Title I Association which Superintendent Hopkins also posted on Twitter as well as the Rochester School District Blog.

We are so incredibly proud of each and every one of our students, families, and staff!!! This is a great achievement for all and is only reached with the ongoing support, communication, and collaboration between our school and families. This truly is a special community to be a part of!

Our staff and students will be recognized this Thursday at the Rochester School Board Meeting held in the City Council Chambers at 7:00pm.

In February, members of the NLS staff will be attending the National Title I Conference in Philadelphia where we will be able to show and speak about the great things our school does.

On behalf of the staff at the Nancy Loud School, THANK YOU. Thank you for the amazing opportunity of teaching your children every day!

Regards,

Dr. Erin Mahoney
